PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Self-taught junior fullstack developer with a real SaaS product in production — Oidoo.app, a kitchen management app currently being used in a real restaurant. Main stack: Next.js, TypeScript, React and Supabase. Background as a station chef at recognised Madrid restaurants (Tramo, Mo de Movimiento, Ravioxo), where I learned to solve real problems under pressure and build processes that actually work. Looking for my first job as a developer — fullstack or frontend — at a company or startup where I can contribute from day one and keep growing.

TECH PROJECT

Founder & Developer · Oidoo.app — Kitchen Management SaaS 2024 – present

- Fullstack web app in production being used in a real restaurant: opening/closing checklists, recipe management with cost breakdowns, order tracking.
- Stack: Next.js · TypeScript · React · Supabase · Tailwind CSS · Vercel. Cloud architecture, auth, real-time database, continuous deployment.
- UX designed around real pain points from professional kitchen experience; direct user support with response under 24h.
- Built and maintained solo — from idea to production.

WHY HIRE A JUNIOR WITH A KITCHEN BACKGROUND

✔ Real product in production

Oidoo.app is not a practice project — it's being used in a real restaurant. I know what it means to build something that actually works.

✔ Learns by building

No bootcamp, no degree. Every concept learned by applying it. The result is working code, not just theory.

✔ Performs under pressure

Years working in environments where mistakes have immediate cost. Attention to detail and calm under pressure are habits, not skills to develop.

✔ Trilingual

Polish (native) · Spanish (B2) · English (B2). Works without friction in international teams.

Availability: immediate · Work mode: on-site, hybrid or fully remote in Spain
